Outskirts Press, United States, 2009. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 216 x 140 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Set in the Australian Outback this is the fast-paced, dramatic story of twenty-five year old Jo Lacey, an Australian volunteers abroad nurse who arrives home after having been incarcerated in a Zimbabwean rebel stronghold for three years, to find everything has changed. She has lost her faith, she has lost her fiance, Karl, who thinking she has been killed has married someone else, and she has lost her innocence, and in its place hugs to her heart a terrible secret. On her return to Tinoonan , her father s sheep station, she unwittingly finds herself the cause of an altercation between two men who hate one another; the one, her father s right- hand man, Blake Langley, who is almost disturbingly unassuming, the other, Morgan Templeton, a handsome, egotistical, pony-tailed geologist who tries to make a pass at her, but is struck down by Blake. Glad to escape after a couple of weeks Jo returns to the city, assumes a false name to preserve her anonymity, takes a job as carer to Mandy, a brain-damaged child, and renews a friendship with an old nursing friend, Shazza. Through her she meets Dr Mike Hudson, a flying doctor visiting from the country, who seeks to serve God through serving the people of the Outback. Though not romantically attracted to Mike, nor sharing his faith, Jo finds she can talk freely with him about her own personal sufferings as she can to nobody else, but even so stops short of divulging her secret. Mike tells her there is a job going at his country hospital if she is interested, but Jo tells him that she already has a job looking...
