C. S. PHARMACEUTICAL CHEMIST OF THE CHEMIST AND DRUGGIST EDITORIAL STAFF EDITORIAL NOTE THIS is a book which has been asked for many times during the past twenty years. Chemists who have found a formula from The Chemist and Druggist pay, their subscription over and over again have frequently suggested to the Editor that the whole of such formulas should be gathered together and published as a book. When these suggestions were accepted, and the work of collating commenced, it was seen that the task was formidable, because of the enormous number and varied quality of the formulas to be dealt with. A goodly proportion of the formulas had to be proved, and the results of the provings are partly embodied in the book. In some cases they show stock and traditional formulas to be useless. It is hoped that the annotations will be helpful to intelligent compounders, and that the hints in regard to packing, labels, and the like will assist retailers. One feature of the book is that the contents are in a great measure based upon requests from more than a generation of pharmacists for assistance in supplying articles for which they could discover no recognised formulas. Thus is it that the correspondence columns of such a journal as The Chemist and Druggist are...
